

- Compose a rap to inform others about the shocking statistics of modern-day slavery, focusing on 'Every 30 seconds someone is forced into slavery', or the fact that people are being used as slaves in our own country, and maybe even our own local area.

- Arrange a charity event (sponsored run, craft stall, concert, etc.) to raise money to help an anti-slavery charity.

- Investigate your family's slavery footprint:-

<https://slaveryfootprint.org/>

- Write to your local newspaper to persuade them to help in the fight against modern day slavery.

- Research and present a fact-file or poster about Ellen and William Craft.

CRY FREEDOM OPTIONAL HOMEWORK

Please complete at least one extra homework activity. You are free to do more than this and you will have opportunities to show your classmates any extra homework you do. You may even be rewarded with house points!

- Think about the long journeys slaves might have had to make and draw a labelled picture of an item you would take with you on a long journey, explaining your choice clearly.

- Make your own zine. Zines are a great tool for activism and getting messages out to people. These prompts might help you start your zine:

- Share your story
- Share the story of someone who has paved the way for others
- Document local community activism

This link might help

<https://www.liverpoolmuseums.org.uk/slavery-remembrance-day/slavery-remembrance-day-creative-activities>

Draw a Sankofa bird. It symbolises that, to understand our present, we must look back to the roots of past experiences and history in order to move forward into a positive future.

<https://youtu.be/yO6NE2MWeCQ>